Sermon Sunday Morning Will Be First Event of 25th Commencement Exercises

CLASS IS LARGE

Final Program Will Be Held on Thursday As Degrees Are Issued by President

Baccalaureate services will be held at W. T. at 11 o'clock Sunday morning for the 94 members of the spring section of the 1936 graduating class. Approximately 100 members of the summer section of the class will receive their degrees in August.

Dr. C. C. Grimes, pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, will deliver the sermon, which marks the beginning of the twenty-fifth annual spring Commencement.

Monday's features will include the annual out-of-door band concert given on the college campus under the direction of C. E. Strain.

Following it, President and Mrs. J. A. Hill will give a reception honoring the members of the Senior Class.

Tuesday night at 8:15 the Commencement concert, under the direction of Prof. Wallace R. Clark, will be given. The Canyon Madrigal Club, the College orchestra, and the College choruses, will unite in producing Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

The last activities of the week will occur Thursday. Dean Colby D Hall of Texas Christian University will give the Commencement address at 10 a. m. and degrees will be conferred by President J. A. Hill in behalf of the College and the Texas State Board of Teachers College Regents.

After an alumni luncheon and the election of officers in the ex-Students Association, members of the Senior Class will scatter to their homes throughout the state.

This year's Senior Class represents 47 towns of Texas. The oldest member of the class is a man who is 47 and has had 20 years of teaching experience. The next oldest member is a woman 45 years of age. Nine members of the class are 19 years of age. Only 28 members of the class have had any teaching experience. It is expected that practically every member of the class will be employed in some line of work by the first of October. Of the class of 1935, almost 97 per cent found positions by the first of December.

Carruth Chosen District Director of School Survey

I. B. Carruth, superintendent of Canyon Public Schools, has been chosen district director of a survey to be made of Texas schools during the coming summer months. This work is being done under the auspices of the State Department of Education, with $400,000 made available by the federal Works Progress Administration.

Mr. Carruth's district will include approximately 35 counties. Work will begin immediately after the close of this school term. N. S. Holland, superintendent of schools at Breckenridge, will be state director of the work.

The survey will consist of a statistical and research study of the efficiency of the present school administration, adequacy of public school plants, and adequacy of present funds. As a result of the survey's findings, recommendations will be made to the Texas Legislature for remedial measures.

SISTER DIES SATURDAY

G. C. Foster received word Saturday that his sister, Mrs. M. L. McCandless, had died at the family home in Greenville. She has been in poor health for some time.

Mr. Foster was unable to attend the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Foster had visited with Mrs. McCandless in March.

July 4th to Be Celebrated In Canyon

Canyon will stage a Fourth of July celebration this year for the first time in several years.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce called a meeting of citizens last night at the court house, and plans were started leading up to this celebration. More definite plans will be announced in a few days as the directors work out the details.

Among the events of the day will be games for the children, band concerts, a softball game, patriotic and political speeches, and the renewal of the cash drawing which was conducted by the merchants of the city during last year.

It is planned to have a loud speaking system arranged so that all who come to Canyon may hear the speeches. Invitations will be sent to candidates to be present during the day.

Citizens of Canyon were asked last night by the Chamber of Commerce to offer suggestions to the officers as to the best manner in which a unique and attractive program might be arranged in order to attract people to Canyon for the day.

Foster Wins Club Tournament With 225 on 54 Holes

Mark Foster won the annual inter-club golf tourney held at the Country Club, by a three-hole margin over T. V. Reeves. Foster shot a 225 on the 54 holes, to Reeves' 228. Reeves was leading in the second round by five strokes, but an 83 in Sunday's match pulled his score down. Carl Scott and Ross Craig tied for third in the first flight with totals of 230.

Twenty-seven golfers completed the 54 holes. Felix Neff won the second flight with a 251 score, T. S. Maxwell came second with 256, and A. L. Walsh third with 257.

In the third flight, Dan Sanders won with 274, Sanford Black was second with 277, and Lloyd Childers third with 302.

Stuart Mahle led the fourth flight; D. M. Foster, second, and Maurice Bewley, third.

Canyon golfers will play the Wolflin Club of Amarillo Sunday. This is the first out-of-town engagement of the club this season, and Oscar Gano, president of the local golf club, urges that all Canyon golfers be at Wolflin at 1 o'clock Sunday.

Ross Craig shot low score for the entire 54 holes in the tournament with a 69 in the first round, May 3.

Teachers Elected and Plans Made for Schools Next Year

An appreciable increase is expected in the enrollment of Canyon High School next term because of the greatly expanded curriculum. Both the grade school and high school have received recognition from the State Department of Education for their advancement in the revised curriculum movement.

Both Principal John B. Pope of the high school and Miss Elva Fronabarger of the grade school are on state curriculum committees. Considerable time has been spent in faculty meeting during the last two years in studying this question.

Vocational agriculture is one of the outstanding additions, and it should be of particular interest to rural boys who are interested in agriculture for a profession. Shop work also will be added. This subject will consist of introductory courses in electricity, wood work, auto mechanics, and sheet metal work.

The commercial department will be expanded to include type writing, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law, commercial English, commercial arithmetic, and general business training.

The present home economics course will be extended to 10 months. In the added month, Miss Brasuel will work in the homes of girls, and will conduct a class for adults.

A safety and first aid course also will be offered next year. An automobile will be secured for use in teaching the operation of a

Depot Underpass Plans Approved Here Yesterday

City, Highway and Santa Fe Agree With Work to Start About First of July

Final arrangements were completed yesterday between the City of Canyon and the Santa Fe Railway and the Highway Department to build an underpass east of the depot.

Work will start about the first of July on this project, and will require a large force of men for several months.

The Highway Department has been working with the Santa Fe officials for a number of weeks to complete plans for this project. The city officials have co-operated in the planning, and have completed arrangements with the property owners abutting the property involved in the construction.

J. W. Van London, district engineer of the Highway Department, was here yesterday closing the plans with Mayor C. R. Burrow.

The project will be handled through WPA when the next period opens on July 1st.

A special appropriation under WPA has been made for building underpasses and the railroads are very anxious to eliminate as many grade crossings as possible.

It is very likely that other improvements will be made in the crossings in Canyon before the program of construction is completed.

3 One-Act Plays Will Be Given at WT Friday Night

Commencement dramatic night will be given Friday night. Instead of the usual play, three one-act plays will be presented under the direction of Miss Mary Morgan Brown and Mr. Leon Lassers. The play will be given in the auditorium of the Education Building, and the admission price will be 25 cents. These plays are given by the Panhandle players, who are the most experienced actors in the College.

"All on the Summer Day," by Colin Campbell, will be directed by Miss Brown. Players are Mary Alice Quattlebaum, Sybil Payne, Adella Beavers, and Marjorie Warren.

Thomas Newell, W. H. Hopkins, Jr., Dorothy Lee Yearwood, Charles Davis, Bomer Brown, Vernon Windsor, and Olie Brown compose the case of the "Drums of Oude." Mr. Lassers directs this play, which is a melodrama dealing with a Sepoy uprising in India. Scotch Highland regiments come to the rescue of besieged British citizens.

The third play is "Lima Beans." This one-act play was originally written for marionettes and as presented tomorrow night it will be a mild parody on marionettes. In the cast are Hazel Kirby, Lawrence McBee, and the curtain, which plays an important part.

Alton Donnell Wins Appointment To West Point

Alton Donnell, Senior in W. T., has received word of his appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

He has successfully passed both mental and physical examinations. He rated second in academic examinations in competition with 25 men. He is to appear at West Point in July, according to a letter from Congressman Marvin Jones.

The course at West Point includes four years training, after which graduates are commissioned into the regular army as second lieutenants.

Miss Hettie Lou Bagley has returned home from her school at Lakeview. She left yesterday for a few weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Bill Sheets of Spearman.

J. A. Barnett of Long Beach, Calif., is here visiting with his brother, J. C. Barnett.

Picture of New P. O. Drawing Is Sent by Jones

The News has received from Congressman Marvin Jones a photograph of the perspective study of the new postoffice building in Canyon.

The treasury department gave Mr. Jones the following information:

"The working drawings for this project are now being reviewed for final corrections, if any. Upon completion of this review, specifications will be prepared, and when completed, competitive construction bids will be solicited. Until these bids are received and a contract awarded, it is not possible to state what changes, if any, might have to be taken into consideration, and which may affect the present design in the event an acceptable bid is not received within the amount available for construction purposes."

College Musical Groups to Give Annual Concert

The Madrigal Club, the combined men's and Women's choruses and the College orchestra will be presented Tuesday night, under the direction of Wallace R. Clark, in the annual Commencement concert.

The "Elijah," one of Mendelssohn's best loved and finest oratorios, will be given, with Miss Ada Clark, Miss Hope Wells, Mr. Houston Bright, and Mr. T. C. Craig as soloists. Miss Royce Park is accompanist.

The concert will be given in the College auditorium at 8:15. There is no charge. Many people from surrounding towns have indicated that they will come to Canyon for the program. This year's concert is made unusually attractive because members of the Madrigal Club, which is composed entirely of experienced singers, will sing the trios, and quartets.

It is of interest that the University of Illinois, the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, and the North Texas State Teachers College are all using the "Elijah" for the Commencement concerts this year.

Eighty-Six New Books Added to the Public Library

Eighty-six new books were added to the Randall County Public Library during the past week.

The total of volumes in the library now numbers 3,500, according to Mrs. S. D. Burton, librarian.

Orders have been placed for additional volumes of new fiction and these will be on the shelves in a short time.

New WPA Class for Women and Girls to Be Organized Here

For the benefit of women and girls who do not have the opportunity of attending college or junior high school home economics classes, a class for this work will be organized.

The class will be in session three hours each day. Everyone interested in this work is asked to meet with Mrs. Myrtle Parker in the county welfare office, Friday at 5 o'clock.

ECKHARDT IS SOLD

Oscar Eckhardt has been sold by the Brooklyn Dodgers to the Indianapolis team of the American Association. Mrs. Eckhardt left yesterday, accompanied by her brother, Jake Harrison, to join him there.

Mr. Eckhardt has made three trips to the major leagues, but has never been given a serious trial. In the few games he played this season he made a fair showing. For several seasons he has led the Pacific League in batting average.

Mrs. Felix Neff and children and P. J. and Edith Neff will leave Sunday for Fort Stockton, where they will visit at the home of her parents. Earl Lock will spend the summer there on the ranch, but Mrs. Neff will return in about two weeks.

Widening Fourth Started Tuesday As PWA Project

Work Started at Museum and Will Continue on Fourth to West, With Intersections

Work was started Tuesday on widening Fourth Avenue.

This was the first WPA project submitted in Randall County, but for various reasons has been postponed from time to time, but now is under way in fine shape.

The first work is being done in the block in front of the Museum and Randall Hall. Under the plan of precedure, each block will be completed as the work proceeds west. In this manner, should the government close down WPA projects over the nation, the city will not be left torn up to await future developments.

The street will be widened from the Museum to the Public Square.

Work will then start on Fourth at Tenth street to the public school building.

Connections will be made between Third and Fifth avenues at the Baptist Church and the Methodist Church.

C. N. Harrison is in charge of the construction work for the city, while Frank Harrison continues in charge for WPA in addition to his duties on the campus projects. Several W. T. projects are fast being closed. Topping the caliche base on the various street jobs is expected to be completed in the near future.

Twenty-seven men were transferred to the widening project Tuesday, and more will be transferred as the campus projects are brought to a close.

City officials have been assured by WPA officials that other street projects will be added as soon as these projects are completed.

Appropriation for Schools Increased $1.00 by the State

Though the $17.50 per capita apportionment of state school aid has been increased by $1 for the current year, Randall County will likely receive slightly less state money than last year because of a decrease in scholastic population.

There were approximately 1,300 school children in the county last year, but indications are that there will be as few as 1,200 for the current year. Approximately $22,750 was received from the state last year. Slightly less will be received by the county for the fiscal year.

The state board of education voted for the $18.50 per capita allotment Saturday. This is the highest per capita grant in the state's history. It applies to approximately 1,575,000 school children over the entire state.

A committee from the State Teachers Association pleaded with the board to add $2.50 per capita, but representatives of property owners urged that no change be made.

WT Exes Will Hold Annual Dinner With McCarty as Speaker

Graduates and ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers College will hold their annual commencement luncheon Thursday, May 28, at 12:30, according to announcement of Lee Johnson, executive secretary of the association.

John L. McCarty, editor of the Amarillo News, will be the speaker for the occasion, and Supt. George A. Heath of White Deer will be toastmaster. The Texas Centennial motif will be used in luncheon appointments.

Reservations should be made by writing the executive secretary at Canyon, Texas. The price is 75 cents a plate.

Miss Oressa Hastings and her mother, Mrs. W. S. Hastings, returned Sunday from Booker, where Miss Hastings has been teaching. She plans to spend the summer in Austin.

Museum Basement to Be Started in Week Through WPA Funds

Excavation for the basement of the Museum addition will be started during the coming week or 10 days, stated Dr. J. A. Hill yesterday. WPA has approved $2,135 for this labor, and as soon as the money is received District Supervisor A. A. Meredith will authorize the work to start.

The Museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society will receive $25,000 from the Centennial fund. About $8,000 of the money will be used for display cases, and the balance in the construction of the basement of the addition, with the hope that additional funds may be secured to complete the building in future years.

Contracts for the display cases and the construction of the building will be let by the Board of Control as soon as excavation is under way.

Farmers Meeting Today and Friday on Soil Program

Approval Must Be Completed This Week As Time Limit Comes To an End

The new soil conservation program is being launched in all communities in Randall County this week. Committeemen are meeting with the farmers at school houses in the various districts according to the following schedule:

District 1 at Sunny Hill, R. B. Gist, committeeman.

District 2 at Ralph School, Ross Craig, committeeman.

District 3 at Jowell School, C. P. Robertson, committeeman.

District 4 at Umbarger, John Bedenk, chairman.

District 5 at District Courtroom, Canyon, J. P. Hix and Jeff Wallace, committeemen.

District 6 at Stone School, C. B. Erwin, committeeman.

District 7 at Park School, W. O. Turpin, committeeman.

District 8 at Trigg, L. B. Hammond, committeeman.

District 9 at Highland, George E. Mason, committeeman.

The above named committeemen have spent several days studying the various provisions of the new program. Farmers generally are rapidly becoming sold on the new program. It offers what is thought to be the best means of effective soil erosion control.

The provision for paying 50 cents per acre this year on land contour fallowed, in addition to the rental payment, is one of the most attractive features of the new soil conservation act. The new program is more attractive to the cattlemen and dairy farmers for the reason that they may plant sudan grass for pasture on land diverted from such crops as wheat and grain sorghum.

The schedule of payments is so arranged as to encourage the best practices for moisture conservation

NEARLY 2 INCH RAINS COVER ENTIRE COUNTY

First Large Rain In Many Months; Revives Hope For Good Row Crop In County

PLANTING TO START

Contour Lines Are Full Water—County Leads in Amount of Contour Listed Land

Rain fell in Canyon Monday night amounting to 1.85 inches.

The rain was the largest that has fallen in Canyon in four years.

While the moisture varied in different parts of the county, every section was reached by the downpour. The northern section of the county received a larger amount than was received in the southern section.

The rain revived the spirits of the people, who were very discouraged at the continued drouth. The ranges were barren, and few farmers had been able to plant row crops before the downpour of Monday.

The contour listing which has been done in Randall County under the soil conservation program has certainly proved itself to be something worth while. Farmers who have reached Canyon since the rain state that the contour-listed fields stood covered with water Tuesday morning, while those not listed on the contour lost much of the rain, and were blowing dust by Tuesday afternoon.

Randall County has 124,000 acres of contour listing, according to the records of County Agent W. H. Upchurch. The county has a larger amount of contour listing done under the requirements of Soil Conservation than any county in the Panhandle, according to reports. $19,000 was given to the farmers by this conservation service as a means of controlling wind erosion. The rain of this week presented the best picture possible of the results that may be obtained by this method of listing.

Certified seed is being bought rapidly since the rain, and the supply available will likely be exhausted during the coming week. Farmers will start planting as soon as they are able to get into the fields.

Another rain fell in the Panhandle last night. Only .08 of an inch fell in Canyon, but some parts of the county received as much as a quarter inch, according to reports this morning.

Randall Farmers Are Entered in Contest For Present Year

County judging for the Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration Contest will be held Tuesday, May 26, at 8 and 10 o'clock. Those entered from Randall County are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Byars and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rockwell, both on State Highways No. 9 and 33.

Judges for this county will be Miss Mary Sittin, home agent, and E. R. Duke, county agent, both of Potter County, Amarillo.

Returns from all counties must be made and published before June 1, when the district judging will be done by Miss Ruby Mashburn and Parker D. Hanna, district home and farm agents, of College Station. Points to be considered in judging entries in the contest will be: The Buildings and Equipment, 2,500; The Grounds, 1,000; The Soil, 1,500; The Crops, 1,500; The Livestock, 2,000; and The Food Supply and other Resources, 1,500; totaling 10,000 points.

Miss Allie Dozier, home agent and Farm Agent W. H. Upchurch are in charge of the preparations of the contestants in this county

ROAMING AROUND

During the past two weeks the Newsman has been in five states outside of Texas, where investigations have been made as to conditions, and people have expressed opinions in regard to the past, present and future.

Perhaps our readers will be interested in some of the observations gained on a 2,200-mile trip where many people have been interviewed.

Conditions are greatly improved, and people are feeling much better in the Middle West. The reality of the depression which left a stunned people has passed, and people are looking hopefully to the future. 1929 is no longer looked upon as the "normal" year, as there is a nation-wide realization that those booming, careless days were abnormal as those days of 1930-35 were sub-normal. Getting back to the old pre-war days is the ambition of farmers as well as business men. The nation has gone a long way in sweeping up the debris caused by the terrible orgy of gambling, and expansion, following the war.

Everyone is interested in politics, and all are talking politics. It is taken for granted that President Roosevelt will be re-elected without difficulty, and even the stanchest stand-pat Republicans admit that both Houses of Congress will continue Democratic during the coming two years. The guns of the party are in reality being trained on the congressional election of 1938 and the presidential election of 1940.

While Landon is the favorite of the Middle West, very few admit that he will be nominated, unless the East, where he is not so impressive, is willing to have him slaughtered this fall in order to remove him as the party leader in 1940.

Iowa is the birthplace of Hoover, but he is no more popular there than he is in Texas at this particular moment.

"Roosevelt saved the farmers," and what more effective battle cry could be raised in a strong agricultural section?

The farmer is in the saddle so far as politics is concerned. The agricultural West and South will be able to swing the presidential elections so long as these sections will stand together. While many farmers will not agree with Roosevelt's farm policy, they rejoice that he has a policy and is not afraid to stand upon the merits of his policy.

The loan companies own a large part of the land in the Mississippi Valley. When land dropped from $300 per acre to $50 per acre, and farm products were worthless, the farmers with debts were wiped out. They could not meet their taxes and interest and pay these debts. It is pitiful to see those who were substantial farmers entirely wiped out as a result of conditions over which they had no control. But the same story has been told in every section of the nation, although perhaps not quite so vividly.

The farmers will not forget those who have come to their aid. They will go into politics in a big way, and will stay by the leaders who help them, regardless of party affiliation.

The Democratic party has not covered itself with glory in the Middle West. In times past the nominees of the party consisted of the few old faithful who sought recognition in the party ranks, a great deal like the Republicans in Texas unload on their members when making up a political ticket. But the Roosevelt sweep in 1932 took the entire ticket into office. Men on the Democratic ticket were elected to public office through no fault of their own, and in many instances regardless of their standing. As a result a lot of unfits suddenly found themselves political leaders, with good paying jobs. It made fools of a lot of them, and they did not realize that it was the pull of Roosevelt and the Democratic party which had elevated them. Many took it as a personal victory, rather than the discrediting of the Republican administration. Many of the Democratic office holders entirely broke with the party, or did such foolish things that they have been rejected by their party. A merry rucus is the result, and many Democrats will be out of the running after the November election, while the states in that section are expected to remain strong for Roosevelt.

Driving 2,200 miles without getting off of hard-surfaced roads excepting at the Jericho gap was the record made on the trip. The distance between Canyon and the old home in Iowa has been reduced nearly 200 miles, thanks to the standard roads being built under the direction of the Bureau of Public Roads of the national government. Eliminating sharp turns, and cutting the shortest distance between the largest towns has shortened the trip. In only one large city, Omaha, does the highway cut through the heart of the city, and this cannot be avoided owing to the bridge over the river. However, Omaha may be avoided entirely if the traveler wishes to cross the river at a point either above or below the city several miles.

The week of Journalism at Missouri University is a unique institution. The students hear men and women from every section of the world. On the program this year were 36 speakers representing every phase of newspaper and advertising business. The Newsman had the pleasure of being the only representative of the press of the Southwest, and one of the two country publishers to appear on the program. Appearing on the program with Ogden Reid, publisher of the New York Herald-Times—largest newspaper in the United States; and Toshishige Yabe of the Tokya Asahi—Japanese daily with six million circulation; and many other notables, is sort of a thrilling event for the publisher of a little country newspaper from the wind-swept plains of West Texas.

Pella, Iowa, is the most prosperous community we have seen in many years. Tulip Week was observed May 10-15. 200,000 tulip bulbs were planted in the city two years ago by the enterprising citizens, and the city is a wonderful sight during the week these are in bloom. The tulips are no better than those seen in Canyon, but practically every home has its share of the flowers. The bulbs are planted along the curbings, along the sidewalks, and all school grounds and parks have large beds.

Pella is an old Dutch community, the original settlers coming from Holland. Tulip Week is an annual affair, when the citizens are garbed in the native dress, and native customs are assumed. The streets are scrubbed by the women before the festival opens, with the men carrying water, two pails at a time, balanced on the yoke which fits across the shoulders and around the neck.

The native costumes are unique and attractive. The children chase around in their wooden shoes as gracefully as if they had grown up in them.

Crowning of Tulip Queen was an interesting affair. The Queen is selected annually by a vote of the people.

Bologna and Dutch cookies are the noted products of the community. Trucks are run to all parts of the state carrying these products fresh to every city. The Dutch carefully guard the financial standing of the members of the community. Every farm is in spick and span condition; every residence and business house in town is modern and well kept. The streets, sidewalks and windows show the result of the scrubbing received before the festival opened.

Dandelions seem to have taken the state of Iowa. In numbers they resemble the blue bonnets of Texas, as they are growing everywhere. It is not likely that they shall ever be killed out. They bloom early in the spring, and then disappear very largely, not contining to bloom throughout the year as they do in this country.

Did you ever wear a 10-gallon hat in a strange land? What a spectacle it is to the natives, and how conspicuous you feel as the natives give you the once or twice over. Perhaps you feel like throwing the thing in the nearest gutter when you hear them mutter, "My g——, another Texas cow puncher." But since this is Centennial Year, and the people of the world should know that Texas is celebrating this great event in a big way, you feel it a duty to make yourself conspicuous by being a Centennial billboard.

The people know about the Centennial, but very few are making definite plans to attend the Centennial. Driving a thousand miles from Texas to make a visit in the old home state sounds perfectly reasonable, but it sounds too far to drive that distance to see the Lone Star empire.

The 10-gallon hat was worn every foot of the way until Oklahoma was reached on the return trip, where it was succeeded by a more comfortable straw.

It's fine to get away for a little breathing spell, and to renew old acquaintances, but it is great to be back home and at the old daily grind.

Old Tack will continue to lie about never, never going away again, but we intend to take another trip as soon as a few shekels can be stored up. It pays to get away and see how other people are living, and what they are doing, and hear what they are thinking about.

France's Shirley Entertains

Entertaining pupils of the French Nursery School, of New York City, little Ginette Marboeuf-Hoyet, selected in a Paris contest as the French child most resembling Shirley Temple, seems to be having the time of her life. A trip to the United States to visit the real Shirley was her reward for winning the contest.

GRADUATION TIME

Graduation! What a tremendous amount of meaning that one word holds, and probably no two graduates ever construe it in exactly the same light. To some high school students it means the finish of school because of financial circumstances; to others it means a job and the making of BIG MONEY in work that does not require a college education; to a great many others it carries a meaning of superiority and freedom from hard work and study, because they are high school graduates and there really isn't much more for them to learn, but they will go to college just for the fun of it. Another small per cent of high school graduates are determined to go to college, come what may, because those in this group desire to do their bit toward the advancement and upbuilding of their community and country. Here are the good citizens and progressive leaders that the world later learns to know and respect. All high school graduates are worthy of our congratulations as they have reached the first rung on the ladder of success.

For college graduates the word GRADUATION means altogether a different thing. Mainly that they must find employment at once and begin supporting themselves and, in many instances, repay the loans that enabled them to finish college. A worthy thing that! But it sometimes worries students to such an extent that they are unable to do their best work while they are yet in college and after they are employed elsewhere. A momentous qustion, that of borrowing money for an education, but who can say that it is not the thing to do!

Of course, all college graduates want to get into the field of work in which they have specialized, but their first great disappointment comes when they are told that there is "nothing for them at present." They are forced to take up something else as a makeshift, and are apt to switch from this to that in order to find something a little more to their liking. In repeating this they are prone to become discouraged with the affair and wonder what their costly education was for. The word GRADUATE then becomes disrobed of all its glamor to become a word of disillusionment and heartache. May no graduates of 1936 find it so and become discouraged and beaten!

Of course Texans are always proud of their state, even though those of us in the Panhandle have to put up with dust occasionally. But one day last week we received the nicest compliment on Texas from a man who was just completing a tour of it for the first time. His home was in Oklahoma, but in his estimation Texas so far beats his home state that it is no longer in the running and he is moving to Texas next month. His comment was that he regretted leaving Texas because of the splendid roads over the entire state, the general feeling and expression of optimism and hospitality that is unequalled anywhere. He was particularly impressed with the little roadside parks that are being constructed along the highways. In some instances these replace old dumping grounds that were always eyesores to everyone. He went on to say that this was one of the most commendable pieces of work that he had noticed recently. Asked about the size of the state, he said, "Well, if there are any undesirable spots in Texas, the state is so large that you can pick out a place to your liking. And your dust here tastes better than any that I have ever tasted." Now isn't that saying the nicest things. Even though perhaps they are not quite all true and he didn't exactly mean all the nice things that he said, it certainly was good to hear. Let's everybody talk good old Texas more!

The Bible continues to hold the spot light among the best sellers throughout the world. A continued world-wide demand for the Bible was reported at the annual meeting of the American Bible Society held at its headquarters in Bible House, New York. The society distributed during 1935, at home and abroad, 7,223,550 volumes of Bibles, Testaments and portions of the Bible in 132 languages and dialects. Scriptures in over one hundred languages were distributed in the United States alone. A notable work of the society was the placing of New Testaments free to the boys in the CCC camps throughout the country through the chaplains. The translation of the scriptures into new languages and dialects goes steadily on and the Bible or some part of it has now been printed in 972 languages and dialects—an increase of 18 during the year, according to the report of the society at its meeting May 14.

Who ever connected the number of leaves on a peach tree with the amount of fruit it produced? Experiments by the United States Department of Agriculture indicate at least 30 to 40 yeaves are necessary to produce enough food to develop a good peach. Producers of large peaches provide larger leaf areas—more than 40 leaves per peach—by thinning the fruit closely. This permits the peaches left on the tree to get more food from the leaves. Thus—more leaves per peach ,the larger the fruit.

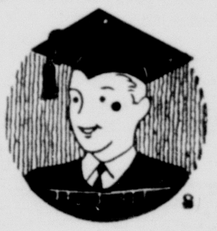
THE CANYON HARDWARE

THE FIRST STEP in a SUCCESSFUL CAREER



CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES

In the past half century engineering science—the product of our schools—has brought to the world unbelievable progress. Science has given us developments and inventions which would have been considered Utopian luxuries only a few years ago. Through the years luxuries have become necessities.

A most important adaptation on natural resources came with the availability of gas for industrial, commercial and domestic uses. Until recent years, gas was used principally for cooking and heating purposes. Science has again shown progress in adapting gas for use in water heating and gas refrigeration that operates economically and silently.

Our company is greatly interested in the welfare of the schools of the territory which it is our pleasure to serve, and we wish well all those who are connected with these institutions.

Mary Ella played "Crescendo," by Per Lasson, and "Valse Caprice No. 4," by Francesco B. De Leone. Mary Ella and Mrs. Lee Foster played "Good Night," by Ethelbert Nevin. The concluding pieces were: "At the Donny Brook Fair," by John Prindle Scott, and "Shepherd's Lullaby," by Marcella Henry.

"Margie Goes Modern" Given

Following the musical, the choral club, under the direction of Miss Gwendolyn Black, presented a one-act operetta, "Margie Goes Modern." The girls of Bowers Institute of Art were competing for the coveted Cecilian Medal which is awarded each year for the best sketch. Margie, a student, dreamed of winning the medal for a secret reason. The trustees, who award the medal, knew Margie's secret, and in the past had deliberately kept her from winning. Margie confided her secret to fellow students and they set out to outwit the trustees by leaving their sketches unsigned, and when the choice was made they were going to congratulate Margie. However, the trustees outwitted them. Margie had taken colors and daubed them all over a sheet of paper, but threw it away. The trustees found this old drawing, and thought surely it wouldn't be Margie's, as she would work hard. The girls were dumbfounded to think they had worked hard and the trustees chose Margie's discarded drawing.

Evelyn Cluck, Margie

Margie was played by Evelyn Cluck; Madame Rapheal, instructor of art, played by Kate Eileen Donnell, and three other students, Helen Jones, and Sophia played by Loretta Cole, Renna Beth Bellah, and Edrie McNeill, respectively. R. Thomsen Speaks At Commencement Sunday Night

The Commencement exercises for the 1936 graduating class were held last Sunday night at the Methodist Church. Reverend R. Thomsen of the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo gave the sermon. The theme of his discussion was "What Religion Means to Me."

"To me religion means three things; in the first place, religion is a sentiment or a moving emotion in human experience," began Mr. Thomsen.

Parent Sacrifice

Parents sacrifice for their children; they love them. People fight for their country in war times; sentiment is reason enough for this, and such is religion; people sacrifice for it, they fight for it, and they get thrills from it; it is like the love of parents for their children or people for their country. Religion is often misunderstood, causes hatred, is fanatic, devilish, not brotherly, so is sentiment or love. "Secondly, religion is a mystery; it is beyond me to explain," continued the speaker. "Everything is a mystery. Things that bring us most are often most mysterious. Take electricity, it is a mystery but a fact, a mystery but powerful, a mystery but useful. That is the way with a mysterious religion. It is uncontrollable but is used. God is revealed to us through this mysterious channel. Mysteries are all around; if we took them out of life, we would remove our very selves from the world.

Religion Is Power

"In the third place, religion is power or gigantic," continued Reverend Thomsen. "One cannot tell what life is, yet there is power in it. Religion is power, like the sun it brings light and strength. It humanizes us into sensible human beings. There is more happiness, health, loveliness, beauty, and light in a religious life than any other." In conclusion the speaker said: "Religion is a supreme sentiment which brings us love; a high mystery which brings us adventure; and a divine power which brings us abundance."

The Prelude, "Andante Pastorale," by Alexis; Processional, "Pilgrims' Chorus," by Wagner; and the Recessional, "Jubilant March," by E. W. Sally, were played by Mrs. Lee Foster.

Marsh Speaks Invocation

The invocation was spoken by Reverend Stewart Marsh of the First Christian Church. "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and "Lead On, O King Eternal" were sung by the assembly. Reverend J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr., of the Methodist Church read the Scripture, the third chapter of Psalms. The high school choral club sang "Seek Ye the Lord." The benediction was spoken by Reverend Earl Craig of the Church of Christ.

Elephant Tusks Excavated; to Be Placed on Exhibit

Two almost perfectly preserved tusks of the extinct species Imperial elephant, the largest elephants known, have been excavated on the Gilbert Ranch, 23 miles southeast of Claude, by C. Stuart Johnston, assistant professor of archaeology and paleontology.

Each of the tusks was 10 feet in length and 10 inches in diameter. In life, the tusks probably weighed 350 pounds each, Mr. Johnston said. The largest known modern elephant tusks weighed 243 pounds. The animal likely measured 14 feet in height at the shoulder, judging from the length of two well-preserved leg bones which were found in the same deposit. A section of vertebrae and some ribs have also been excavated. Work is still in progress, and it is hoped that enough bones will be found to assemble the skeleton.

These fossils are being prepared for exhibit in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum. Considerable time will be required for the work, however. Don Savage and Wayne Miles, students, are assisting in the work of preparation.

Museum Receives Old Paper From Higgins Journalist

A paper giving the story of the founding of the Panhandle Press Association has been given to the Panhandle - Plains Historical Society through the kindness of L. D. Shaw, who has been editor of the Higgins News since 1905.

The Panhandle Press Association was organized in June, 1909, at Canadian.

Among other things contained in the paper, which was written at this year's Panhandle-Press Association meeting, is a list of Panhandle papers which lived for a time and were discontinued. Names included are: Monday Morning News, Star, Eagle, Herald, Champion, Bulletin, Monitor, Square Dealer, Socialist, Inspector, Dispatch, Chronicle, Banner Stockman, and Western Pilot.

Clyde W. Warwick, editor of the Canyon News, has been actively identified with the Panhandle Press Association since 1910, and John McCarty of Amarillo, Editor of the Amarillo Daily News, was its president during 1935.

Carolyn Mayfield, Evelyn Cluck, Betty Ruth Solomon, and Kate Eileen Donnell sang four songs, accompanied by Miss Gwendolyn Black at the piano. A member of the orchestra sang several Spanish and English songs, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Mumps Column

Miss Elva Fronabarger, principal of the grade school, is out of school now with mumps. Miss Fronabarger contracted the mumps last Wednesday, May 13, and will not be able to come back to school for the rest of the school term.

Mrs. John Davis, teacher of mathematics in the grade school, is substituting for Miss Fronabarger for the rest of the school year.

John B. Pope III returned to school last Monday after two weeks absence with mumps. His absence is akin to the sleep of Rip Van Winkle. He missed the Junior play, Junior-Senior banquet, seven tests, and came back to find the Seniors all in caps and gowns and ready to graduate.

David Phillips, Senior, is out of school with mumps. He took them last Thursday. David will not be able to graduate with the rest of the Senior class, but will take his tests and receive his diploma later.

Paula Louise Beckwith came to school Monday with the mumps. The school buzzed like a hive of bees. Everyone scrambled over the building to get a look at the mumps. Mr. I. B. Carruth, superintendent, hastily called Paula into his office for a conference. Following the conference, Paula went home to nurse her case of mumps as it should be.

Luzerne and Rosalie Deavers attended a picnic dinner at Tony Ridge school house, near Panhandle, Sunday.

The average man has to be as sick as a dog before he will take castor oil, and yet he'll want to kill the children because they don't take it cheerfully.

Another reason why children were better-mannered in the good old days was because their parents knew how to use both sides of a hair brush.

The man who has just barely escaped being run over can have this consolation—some day he'll have the right-of-way in a hearse.

While you're blaming your troubles on the world it's a good idea to remember that you're taking up a good deal of space in it.

Men who observe the landing place before they anchor are the kind that stick.

Mary Collins Will Edit Eagle's Tale '36-'37 Year

Mary Collins has been elected to the editorship of the Eagle's Tale for the 1936-37 school year.

Mary has been prominent in all activities of the school. She is vice-president of the Texas Interscholastic League Press Conference, and will preside at the annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association held in Amarillo next year.

The managing editor for the paper will not be chosen until school begins next fall.

Home Economics Club Has Picnic At Creek

Last Friday the first year home economics boys and girls went on a picnic to South Creek. The boys furnished the ice cream and the girls furnished the cakes. The ice cream and cakes were made in the boys' and girls' class periods Friday.

Coach C. C. Jones and Coach Gerald Brown attended a baseball game at Amarillo Saturday night between the Aztecs Mexicans and the Phillips 66 squads.

Joe and Ruth Gill spent last Saturday and Sunday at their home northwest of Umbarger.

Texas Tech Wins Tennis Meet Over W T Racqueteers

Presenting an unorthodox chopping game, the Texas Tech tennis squad shelled the West Texas State tennis team, 7 to 5, Saturday on the College court. The Matadors won six of the nine matches. The singles matches were valued at one point each, and the doubles counted two points.

This is the second meeting of the two squads, Tech having victored in the fall by 6-0.

George Smalley, rangy Buff netter, was hitting with customary abandon in his most impressive performance of the year. He pulled out the lone W. T. singles match, and then doubled with Riley to capture the number 1 doubles debacle from Gordon-Jordon of Tech.

Riley wilted before the flawless stroking of Gordon, Tech, winner of the Border Conference meet in Arizona last week. Bothered by the chop strokes of Jordon, Tech, Curry surrendered by a score of 2-6, 6-3, 6-2. Smalley sparkled a 6-3, 6-0 win over Bozeman, Tech. Allison's powerful game was solved by McCarty of Tech by 2-6, 6-2, 6-2. Lance defeated Howard, W. T., in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. Parker of Tech took advantage of Hemphill's errors to victor, 6-4, 6-3.

Smalley and Riley flashed an effective volleying attack to pull out a victory of 6-4, 6-2, in the number 1 doubles.

Curry and Allison played a long and sternly-fought match before they were victorious over Bozeman and Parker of Tech, 6-2, 7-9, 6-4. Lance and McCarty stored the meet away when they barely beat Hemphill and Howard, 6-3, 7-9, 6-3.

Talley-Ho

Remember what a Big Marion Talley was when she made her grand opera debut a few years ago? All the buxomness has disappeared. Snapped at Palm Springs, Calif., where she was resting between scenes of her first film effort, Miss Talley, who now weighs only 104 pounds, made a picture attractive enough for any movie screen.

Dr. F. M. Wilson,
City Health Officer,
Canyon, Texas

Dear Dr. Wilson:

We have an advanced report of our recent survey of the Canyon milk supply which shows a milk sanitation rating of 97%. This places Canyon on the Honor Roll of cities having a milk supply sanitation rating of 90% or more. A safe and clean milk supply is of much importance and your citizenship as well as your dairymen will no doubt feel proud of this high rating.

Yours very truly,

John W. Brown, M. D.,
State Health Officer.

car, and to teach traffic regulations.

A course in journalism has been offered during the last three years. Only a few high schools in this section have a similar course.

Addition of Milton Morris, who will teach vocational agriculture, is the only change made in the public school teaching staff in the last meeting of the board of education. The faculty for next year has not been completed, however, and a meeting will be held this week to finish the work.

The following teachers were re-elected to their positions in the grade school: Mrs. T. N. Collins, first grade; Virginia Jarrett, first grade; Mrs. Ola Beason, second grade; Ruth Greenfield, third grade; Gladys McClanahan, fourth grade; Mrs. L. M. Farmers Meeting and wind erosion control for this section of the country.

The work under the present sign-up schedule consists of the signing of work sheets for every farm for the sole purpose of establishing acreage bases and serve as a basis in determining schedule of payments and methods of compliance later in the season.

The time limit for filing a work sheet is set for Saturday, May 23. Every owner or operator of land in Randall County is urged to file a work sheet and establish an acreage base, whether or not it is to be used this year.

The signing of a work sheet places no obligation on anyone.

Farmers should co-operate with committemen to the end that a work sheet may be filed on every piece of land in the county so that the base acreage established for the county will be as nearly correct as possible. Randall County will not receive her part of acreage allotment unless figures for the total acreage are accurate.
